Government Policies

[1] The national working meeting of combating infringement and counterfeiting held in Beijing

[Ministry of Commerce]

...On June 23, the national leading group office of combating infringement and counterfeiting held the working meeting in Beijing. In the first four months of 2014, there were more than 40,000 illegal cases of infringement and counterfeiting were investigated and penalized by the national administrative law enforcement organs, more than 3,700 cases were investigated by the public security organs, more than 6,000 suspects were captured, more than 2,700 people were arrested, involving 1,700 cases; 5,100 cases were tried and more than 8,000 people were involved in the effective judgments.

The meeting urged all localities and departments to earnestly implement the 2014 National Combating of Infringement and Counterfeiting Work Outline. Centered on the infringement of trademarks, copyrights, patents, trade secrets and other intellectual property rights, and production and sale of counterfeit and shoddy agricultural, pharmaceutical, building materials, auto parts, motor gasoline and diesel and other outstanding problems, we should effectively conduct centralized treatment, strengthen the regulation of the Internet, rural areas and urban-rural markets, improve supervision and inspection, performance appraisal, statistical and report system to ensure the effective implementation of key works. Meanwhile, we should focus on strengthening the construction of long-term mechanism, make information public on administrative penalty cases, improve the cohesion between the administrative law enforcement and criminal justice system, improve relevant laws and regulations to promote and accelerate the construction of credit system, and enhance public awareness of infringement and counterfeiting.
